AI in Software Development

This project explores the impact of AI in software development by demonstrating a simple AI-powered code suggestion tool. The script takes user input and simulates

AI-assisted code recommendations. The implementation is optimized to ensure efficiency and maintainability.

Key Features:

- AI-assisted code generation

- Clean and modular design

- Demonstrates AI's role in modern development